

Introduction

Prompt 1 — Freelance Graphic Design Service Agreement for a Startup

Backstory:

Rohit, 28, is a freelance graphic designer in Bengaluru who has just been approached by a newly launched fashion startup to design their brand identity, including the logo, packaging, and website banners. The startup has promised staged payments but has not provided any formal contract. Rohit wants to ensure he has clear terms around deliverables, payment schedules, intellectual property ownership, confidentiality, revision limits, and termination clauses. He also wants the language to be simple enough for both parties to understand without a lawyer present.

Goal:

Create a professional yet simple freelance service agreement that safeguards Rohit's payment rights, defines deliverables and timelines, protects intellectual property, and includes clauses for dispute resolution in India.

Prompt:

"You are an experienced contract lawyer specialising in creative service agreements for freelancers in India. Draft a comprehensive yet easy-to-read freelance service agreement between a freelance graphic designer and a startup. Include sections for: scope of work, deliverables with timelines, payment terms (including late fees), intellectual property transfer, confidentiality, revision policy, termination rights, and dispute resolution under Indian law. Use clear, plain English and avoid overly complex legal jargon."

Inputs Required from User:

- Freelancer name & address
- Client name & address
- Scope of work description
- Total project fee & payment milestones
- Maximum number of revisions
- Preferred dispute resolution method (e.g., arbitration, court)

Prompt 2 — Influencer Collaboration Contract for a Brand Campaign

Backstory:

Priya, 25, is a lifestyle influencer based in Mumbai with 120k Instagram followers. A skincare brand has approached her to promote their new product line over a 3-month campaign involving reels, stories, and one live session. Priya has worked without contracts before but faced payment delays and vague deliverable expectations. This time, she wants a written agreement detailing content deliverables, posting schedule, compensation, usage rights, exclusivity terms, and disclosure requirements as per ASCI guidelines in India.

Goal:

Draft a detailed influencer-brand collaboration contract that outlines deliverables, payment schedule, brand approval process, and compliance with Indian advertising laws.

Prompt:

"You are a legal expert specialising in influencer marketing agreements in India. Create a professional collaboration contract between a brand and an influencer for a 3-month campaign. Include clauses for: scope of work (content deliverables and posting schedule), approval process, payment terms, intellectual property & usage rights, exclusivity during the campaign, ASCI and disclosure compliance, termination rights, and dispute resolution. Ensure the language is legally sound yet easy for both parties to understand."

Inputs Required from User:

Introduction

- Influencer name & address
- Brand name & address
- Campaign start & end dates
- Number & type of deliverables (reels, stories, live sessions)
- Payment amount & schedule
- Exclusivity period (if any)

Prompt 3 — Co-Founders Agreement for an Indian Private Limited Company

Backstory:

Amit, 31, and Neha, 29, are co-founders starting a health-tech startup in Delhi. They have verbally agreed on roles, equity split, and decision-making responsibilities, but a mentor advised them to formalise these in writing to avoid disputes. They need a co-founders agreement that outlines equity ownership, capital contributions, decision-making authority, vesting schedules, exit clauses, and handling of intellectual property.

Goal:

Prepare a legally binding co-founders agreement that clearly defines roles, responsibilities, and ownership, while protecting the business from future disputes.

Prompt:

"You are a corporate lawyer specialising in startup founder agreements in India. Draft a co-founders agreement for an Indian Private Limited Company that includes: roles & responsibilities, equity distribution, capital contribution terms, vesting schedules, decision-making process, non-compete and confidentiality clauses, intellectual property ownership, founder exit procedures, and dispute resolution under Indian law. Ensure clarity while maintaining legal enforceability."

Inputs Required from User:

- Names & addresses of co-founders
- Proposed equity split
- Capital contributions (cash or assets)
- Vesting period (if any)
- Decision-making rules (e.g., unanimous or majority)

Prompt 4 — Vendor Agreement for an E-commerce Business

Backstory:

Shreya runs an online home décor marketplace and partners with multiple small vendors to sell handmade products. She wants a standardised vendor agreement to ensure quality, timely delivery, payment security, and compliance with return/refund policies. Her past experiences with verbal agreements have led to disputes over damaged goods and delayed shipping.

Goal:

Create a vendor agreement template that clearly defines terms for supply, payment, quality checks, returns, and liability.

Prompt:

"You are a commercial contracts lawyer in India. Draft a vendor agreement for an e-commerce business that covers: product supply terms, quality standards, packaging requirements, delivery timelines, payment terms, return/refund policy, liability for damaged goods, intellectual property rights for product images, and dispute resolution. Use clear, concise, and enforceable clauses suitable for recurring use with multiple vendors."

Introduction

Inputs Required from User:

- Vendor name & address
- Product categories supplied
- Payment schedule & method
- Delivery timeframes
- Return/refund policy details

Prompt 5 — Employment Contract for a Tech Startup

Backstory:

Vikram, 30, is the founder of a SaaS startup in Pune hiring his first full-time developer. Since he's operating on seed funding, he wants to offer a combination of fixed salary and ESOPs. He needs an employment contract that covers job role, salary structure, ESOP vesting, confidentiality, non-compete, and termination terms — all while being compliant with Indian labour laws.

Goal:

Draft an employment contract that is legally compliant, protects intellectual property, and includes clear ESOP terms.

Prompt:

"You are an HR and employment law expert in India. Create a detailed employment contract for a tech startup hiring a software developer. Include clauses for: position & responsibilities, working hours, salary breakdown, ESOP grant & vesting schedule, confidentiality, non-compete, intellectual property assignment, termination process, and compliance with Indian labour regulations. Keep the language professional and precise."

Inputs Required from User:

- Employer name & address
- Employee name & address
- Job title & description
- Salary details & ESOP percentage
- Working hours & location
- Termination notice period

Prompt 6 — Non-Disclosure Agreement (NDA) for Startup Investor Meetings

Backstory:

Karan, 33, is the founder of a fintech startup preparing to pitch to multiple investors. He plans to share sensitive details such as proprietary algorithms, client acquisition strategies, and unreleased product features. He's concerned about these investors potentially using the information to invest in competitors or start similar ventures. He needs an NDA that protects his confidential information while remaining investor-friendly to avoid scaring them off.

Goal:

Create a balanced NDA that protects proprietary information without being overly restrictive for potential investors.

Prompt:

"You are a legal specialist in early-stage startup fundraising. Draft a mutual NDA between a startup founder and potential investors that covers: definition of confidential information, obligations of confidentiality, permitted disclosures, duration of confidentiality, exceptions to obligations, and remedies for breach. Ensure it

Introduction

- Governing law & jurisdiction

Prompt 7 — Joint Venture Agreement for Manufacturing Partnership

Backstory:

An Indian furniture company wants to partner with a Singapore-based design firm to produce a premium furniture line for the Asian market. Both parties will invest equally, share profits, and manage operations jointly. Past experiences in the industry show that without a clear JV agreement, disputes over profit-sharing, IP rights, and exit clauses can derail operations.

Goal:

Draft a comprehensive joint venture agreement that sets clear terms for capital contribution, profit-sharing, management, and dispute resolution.

Prompt:

"You are a corporate contracts lawyer experienced in international partnerships. Draft a Joint Venture Agreement between an Indian manufacturing company and a Singapore-based design firm that includes: formation details, capital contribution, profit/loss sharing ratio, management structure, intellectual property ownership, confidentiality, dispute resolution (cross-border), exit clauses, and governing law. Ensure clarity and legal enforceability for both jurisdictions."

Inputs Required from User:

- Names & addresses of both parties
- Capital contribution amounts
- Profit/loss sharing ratio
- Management roles & decision-making process
- Governing law preference

Prompt 8 — Franchise Agreement for a Café Brand

Backstory:

An established café brand in Delhi is offering its first franchise to an entrepreneur in Jaipur. The franchisor wants to ensure brand consistency in operations, quality, and marketing while the franchisee wants clarity on support, territory rights, and termination clauses.

Goal:

Prepare a detailed franchise agreement that balances brand protection and franchisee rights.

Prompt:

"You are a commercial lawyer specialising in franchise agreements. Draft a franchise agreement for a café business in India that includes: franchise grant & territory rights, initial & ongoing fees, operational guidelines, quality standards, training & support obligations, marketing requirements, intellectual property use, audit rights, termination & post-termination obligations, and dispute resolution. Use a tone that is professional yet clear for entrepreneurs new to franchising."

Introduction

Inputs Required from User:

- Territory/location rights
- Initial franchise fee & royalty percentage
- Support & training details
- Termination notice period

Prompt 9 — Partnership Deed for a Small Business

Backstory:

Two cousins are starting a bakery in Lucknow and plan to split profits 60-40. They've agreed verbally on capital contributions and responsibilities but want a written partnership deed to avoid misunderstandings later.

Goal:

Draft a legally valid partnership deed under Indian law with clear clauses on profit-sharing, responsibilities, and dissolution.

Prompt:

"You are an expert in Indian partnership laws. Draft a partnership deed for a small bakery business that includes: firm name & address, partner details, capital contributions, profit/loss sharing ratio, roles & responsibilities, decision-making process, withdrawal of capital, admission of new partners, dissolution procedure, and dispute resolution. Ensure the language is clear and accessible for non-lawyers while maintaining legal enforceability."

Inputs Required from User:

- Partner names & addresses
- Capital contributions
- Profit/loss split
- Decision-making rules
- Dispute resolution method

Prompt 10 — Service Level Agreement (SLA) for IT Services

Backstory:

A mid-sized Indian company is outsourcing its IT support to a vendor for network management, cybersecurity monitoring, and helpdesk services. The company previously suffered downtime and slow issue resolution due to vague contracts.

Goal:

Create a clear SLA that defines performance standards, response times, and penalties for non-compliance.

Prompt:

"You are a technology contracts specialist. Draft a Service Level Agreement between a company and an IT service provider that includes: scope of services, performance metrics, uptime guarantees, response & resolution times, reporting obligations, penalties for breach, confidentiality, data security requirements, and termination clauses. Make it specific enough to hold the vendor accountable while remaining fair and enforceable."
